

Tori Peers, Pro

Tori Peers is a professional golfer on the road to chase her dream of playing on the LPGA Tour. She grew up playing golf with her brother until she starts to outdrive him and realized she has the talent to dream bigger.

While in her professional golf career, Tori recently came in 6th in 2021 California Women's Open, a professional state event. She also came in close second in another professional event in Northwest Women's Open. Tori played golf in California State University Bakersfield where she holds various record such as lowest scoring average of the CSUB's single-season history, and multiple lowest season average on the team.

Tori currently resides in Las Vegas, Nevada while she plays on Cactus Tour, Women's All Pro Tour, and advancing on to the road to LPGA tour. She joined BackSwing Golf Events not only to fund her dream of playing professionally but also using her passion of giving back to make a difference in her community.
